2101	Ministering Together as Families Outside the Walls of the Church 	Julie Stevens	There is a holy urgency to get outside the walls of the church and build relationships with people in our communities. How do we equip families to be intentional about meeting their neighbors? How can the church come alongside and equip families to engage the world around them? This workshop will focus on practical strategies for families to influence and impact their communities for Christ.
2102A	Discipling Like Jesus	Brady Wisehart	Join the conversation about Christlike discipleship with a pastor who has been successful discipling others in his local church using the Discipled by Jesus format.
2102B	The Medium Is the Message 	Mark Quanstrom	Explore the relationship between our Wesleyan-Holiness theological commitments and our ecclesial methodologies and strategies. In other words, are our practices in harmony with our theology, or does our methodology at times undermine our theology?
2103A	Healthy Habits for Marriages and Families 	David and Lisa Frisbie	Marriage and family are foundational to the life and mission of the Church of the Nazarene. In this workshop, we will explore the issues the Church is facing related to marital expectations and the rate of divorce while discovering the responses and resources available to pastors to strengthen families and marriages. Also offered Wednesday at 3:30 pm.
2103B	Starting Well: What I Wish I Knew Then 	Jeren Rowell	From 25 years of parish ministry and 12 years of superintendency, Jeren Rowell offers this space for dialogue with developing ministers on some of the lessons learned along the way. The focal points are thinking and practices that enable a flourishing life of vocational ministry.

2103C	Global Diaspora of People: The Church's Opportunity	Global Missions Personnel	There are more displaced persons and more people migrating around the world today than ever before. Why are they moving? Come join a discussion about the people God is bringing to our neighborhoods.
2104A	Partnering with Your Local Schools	Dana Spaitte	Learn the foundation and strategies for reaching families at your local schools. Schools are increasingly open to working with churches because of the needs of today's school children. Don't miss this chance to connect and be the hands and feet of Jesus.
2104B	Reaching New Generations	Douglas Powe	The challenge for many congregations is reaching new generations. What do they want, and how can we more effectively connect with them?
2105	Ministerial Entrepreneurship	Dean Blevins	This workshop examines the value of identifying, empowering, and equipping the innovative and entrepreneurial pastors and leaders among us as a growing strategy in engaging mission both locally and globally.
2201	Healing Moral Injuries: Forgiveness and Reconciliation Inside a Violent Culture	Ken D. Harris	Examine the area of moral injuries and how to address this important topic within your ministry context.
2202	Nazarene Safe: The Next Steps	Leslie Hart	Let's talk about how to create and sustain a safe ministry environment for your faith community in today's world. Are you ready for the day a registered sex-offender asks to attend your church? Renew your commitment to prevention as the best protection.

2203	Sponsoring an Ethnic Outreach: Challenge and Opportunity in Developing Multicultural Ministries	Susan Carole	This workshop will explore the exciting potential of melting barriers and crossing socio-ethnic boundaries in the power of Christ's reconciling love. Participants will engage in lively and fruitful discussions about the mandate for multicultural ministry, as well as the rich variety of practices that faithfully express God's gracious initiative in Christ.
2204	Using Data from The Association of Religion Data Archives (ARDA)	Arthur E. Farnsley II	Discover the many kinds of religion data in the Association of Religion Data Archives (ARDA). Participants will learn to analyze neighborhoods and larger communities, to find data specific to Nazarene churches, and to compare and contrast different countries and different religions. No previous data management experience is necessary. The ARDA is a great tool for denominational and congregational planning.
2205	Living Beside the Call	Jill Barber	Living "beside the call" is unique. As the spouse of the pastor, you can thrive even amidst the pressures, loneliness, and occasional confusion over role identity. Come join us as we start a conversation to remind you that you are valued and can be yourself as you live beside the call.
2206	Evangelismo Practico para Todos	Daniel Herrera, Bernie Slingerland	Explore principios y estrategias simples de evangelismo a través del programa "Ser Como Él." ¡También descubrirás los pasos prácticos que cualquiera puede tomar para discipular a alguien!

Also offered separately as an English-language workshop (Tuesday at 11:00 am).

2207	From Hinduism to Christ: Free At Last	Lena Crouso	Listen to this testimonial journey to freedom from Hinduism into the inclusive love of God. Engage in what it means to love without boundaries and see what happens when we experience the gospel unleashed. Deconstruct ministry roadblocks and gain ways to build bridges with people who follow beliefs rooted in Eastern cultural contexts.
2208	Using Social Media for Your Church 	Jenna Briles	With more than 3.3 billion active users, social media is shaping the way we communicate. So what does that mean for your church? Whether your church is new to social media or has been using it for years, discover how you can build an effective social media strategy.
2209	Mental Health: Triage & Community Referrals	Kiersten Adkins	Lay and professional ministers are often the first to learn of mental health challenges. Whether someone is simply overwhelmed by life stressors or in distress due to a serious mental disorder, the attuned leader will be prepared to evaluate their own competencies and understand who to refer to in the professional mental health community when needed. Understand the value of working collaboratively with the mental health community and how to build a resource list for referrals.
2210	Church Intruder Response	Barry Young	This workshop will help leaders recognize behavioral pre-cursors to suspicious behavior, review statistics and trends of crimes against churches, examine justification and biblical authority for safety and security within the church, learn strategies to de-escalate conflict from a verbal point of view, and provide an overview of lockdown procedures for threats inside and outside of a church facility.
2211	Best Practices for District Board of Ministry	Jerry Kester	The work of the District Board of Ministry is central to the work of the church in stewarding the call of God on the life of the person preparing for ordination. Explore some of the best practices being developed on one of our leading districts.

2214	Embedded Church Facilities: How Strategic Planning and Innovative Design Can Help Move Your Ministry From the Fringes of Community to an Embedded Identity!	Don Mahoney	Ministries are most effective when they are fully immersed in their community, and buildings can play a key role in moving a church toward an embedded identity. Learn how strategic planning and innovative design can help bring the church back to the center of the community through spaces that are more flexible, accessible, relevant, and inclusive.
2215	You Say You Want a Revolution? 	Dan Boone	Meet Jesus—the original revolutionary who turned the world upside down with His countercultural ways. The author of You Say You Want a Revolution? discusses Jesus' radical commitment to justice and compassion.
3501A	Missional Impact in USA/Canada Megaregions	Matt Price	A demographic look at the history of Nazarene presence in 11 megaregions (populations over 10 million) and its impact on the church's mission for multiplying churches and extending compassion.
3501B	The Volunteer Factory	Jeremy Bond	Let's talk about a systematic approach to volunteer recruitment and health. We'll include a philosophy of volunteering and practical steps to calling, retaining, valuing, and enjoying children's ministry volunteers!
3501C	Missional Discipleship: Partnering in the Redemptive Mission of God in the World 	Mark A. Maddix	An important aspect of discipleship is engaging in God's mission in the world through service and compassion. This workshop will explore how congregations can develop missional disciples who are engaged in partnering in the redemptive mission of God in the world.

3501D	Untethered, Dislocated, and Disestablished: Missional Leadership in a Changed World (Session 1 of 4) 	Daron Brown, Jeff Stark	In western society, everything has changed. It's no longer a story dominated by words like post-modern but rather post-Christian, post-truth, None's, Done's, and Don't Cares. Explore this shift from a "centripetal" model of ministry in the old world to a "centrifugal" missional model of ministry in the new world. Instead of lament, celebrate this time of profound opportunity for the church!
3501E	Recovering the Full Mission of God	Dean Flemming	Is our gospel witness too small? Should the gospel be proclaimed in words only? Or should we preach the gospel in deeds and when necessary use words? Are we missing something in playing the witness of words against deeds? Exploring key passages in Scripture, we will discover that evangelism is part of something bigger—the comprehensive mission of God, which involves being, doing, and telling. We'll also ask what that might look like in practice. Also offered Wednesday at 2:00 pm.
3501F	High-Impact Church Planting	Selena Freeman, Dylan Robinson	Gain insights, along with proven ideas, tools, and resources to equip you to partner with strong churches and a supportive district to plant high-impact churches in your community.
3501G	Urban Core Church Planters Panel	Mark Bane, Jay Height, Pete Myers, Jenee Noriega, Allen Southerland	Listen to and interact with several Nazarene leaders planting churches in the urban core of our largest population areas.
3501H	Best Practices in Clergy Restoration 	Stan Rodes	Identify best practices and review important clergy restoration work resourcing the action of the 2017 General Assembly to re-envision the engagement of the church in restoring clergy.
